Unit 2A

Open the door!

GRAMMAR BANK / Imperative form

Imperative form é uma forma verbal primariamente utilizada para darmos ordens ou instruções a alguém. Também pode ser utilizada como meio de transparecer a urgência de alguma ação. Observe as imagens abaixo contendo alguns exemplos de frases no modo imperativo:

Turn left.

Turn right.

Turn on.

Turn off.

Slow down.

Be careful.

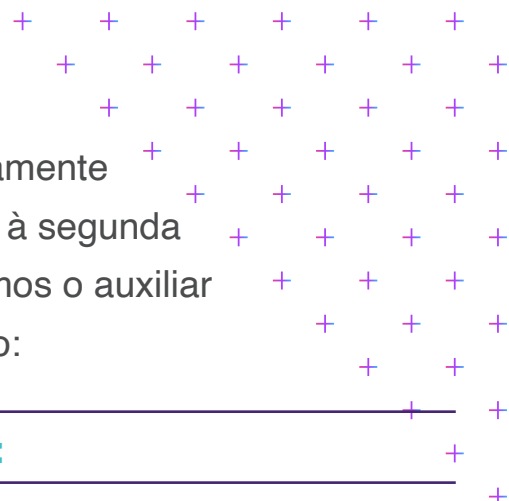

Don't worry.

Open the window.

Close the window.

Quick rules: O modo imperativo é formado diretamente pelo verbo, sem o sujeito, e é sempre direcionado à segunda pessoa (você/vocês). Para a forma negativa, usamos o auxiliar don't antes do verbo. Observe os exemplos abaixo:

IMPERATIVE FORM:

(don't) + verb + (complement)

Stop! – Pare!	Don't stop! – Não pare!
Come here. – Venha aqui.	Don't come here. – Não venha aqui.

Let's

Usamos a expressão Let's como um modo enfático de sugerir algo, principalmente quando se acredita que a pessoa concordará com a sugestão. Devemos utilizá-lo antes de um verbo, como nos exemplos abaixo:

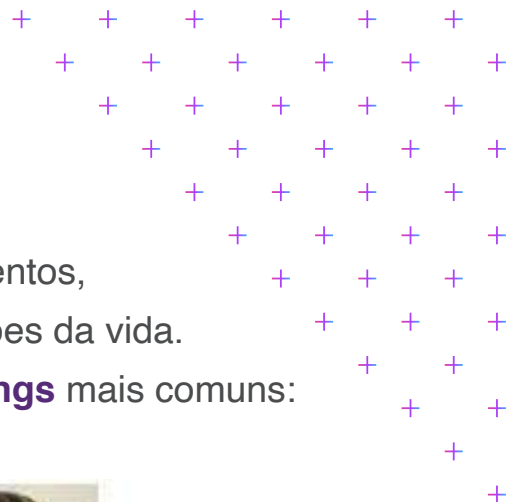

Let's eat! - Vamos comer!

Let's go! - Vamos embora!

Let's play! - Vamos brincar!

TEST YOUR SKILLS!

- It's cold here. Please, _____ the window!
- Don't _____. I'm ok!
- Can you _____ on the A.C.? It's too hot in here.
- The restaurant is near the library. _____ right onto the next road.
- _____ eat something! I'm hungry!

- i) _____ breakfast

Unit 3A

Whose car is this?

GRAMMAR BANK / Possessive case ('s)

Possessive cases ('s) são utilizados para falar de relações familiares e para transmitir a ideia de posse, indicando que algo pertence ou está associado a pessoas, animais ou lugares. Observe as regras gerais abaixo:

He's ~~the father of~~ George.

He's George's father.

THE POSSESSIVE CASE 'S

Com substantivos no singular: usamos 's

- My dog's toy - The toy belongs to my dog

Com substantivos irregulares no plural: usamos 's

- The children's room - The room belongs to the children

Com substantivos regulares no plural (terminados em s):
usamos somente '

- My parents' house - The house belongs to my parents

Não utilizamos o possessive 's para falar de coisas e ideias, nesse caso usamos a preposição of para demonstrar a relação entre as coisas.

- It is the end of the class. (NOT The ~~class's~~ end.)

Attention! Observe que nem sempre 's se refere ao caso possessivo. Em muitos contextos, 's é apenas a forma contraída do verbo be (= is).

Paul's mother > caso possessivo = "the mother of Paul"

Paul's British > verbo be = Paul is British

Whose

Whose é um pronome possessivo (assim como my, your, his, her, etc.), utilizado em perguntas para descobrir a quem pertence determinado objeto. Observe os exemplos abaixo:

- Whose wallet is this?
- (or)
- Whose is this wallet?
- It's mine!

Attention! Pronunciamos whose e who's da mesma maneira.

Who's that boy? = Who is that boy? (quem é?)

Whose jacket is that? = Who owns that jacket? (a quem pertence?)

TEST YOUR SKILLS!

1. Circle the correct form:

- That's Claudia's / Claudias' sweater.
- My mothers' / mother's sister is my aunt.
- Those are my sisters' / sister's friends. (I have only one sister.)
- I got home at the day's end / end of the day.
- The student's desks / students' desks are blue.

2. Complete with whose or who's:

- _____ ball is this?
- _____ your favourite actor?
- _____ your German teacher?
- _____ Kevin's girlfriend?
- _____ apples are those?

Unit 3B

- I get back _____ work _____ 1 p.m.
- They get up _____ 6 and start work _____ half 7.

Unit 4A

I hardly ever eat vegetables.

GRAMMAR BANK / Adverbs of Frequency

Adverbs of frequency são utilizados para descrever com qual frequência uma determinada ação acontece.

POSIÇÃO DOS ADVERBOS DE FREQUÊNCIA

ANTES dos verbos principais (exceto o verbo 'be'), nas frases afirmativas.

- I always wake up early.

DEPOIS do verbo 'be'.

- They 're sometimes late.

ENTRE o verbo auxiliar e o verbo principal, nas negativas.

- He doesn't always go to school.

- They don't usually eat at home.

Attention! Com os advérbios NEVER e HARDLY EVER, utilizamos a forma afirmativa dos verbos principais.

She never goes to school. (NOT ~~She doesn't never go to school~~)

Expressions of time

Além dos advérbios de frequência, também podemos usar expressões de tempo para descrever a frequência com que certos eventos acontecem. Observe os exemplos abaixo:

POSIÇÃO DAS DIFERENTES EXPRESSÕES DE TEMPO

NO FIM DAS FRASES

- I have German classes every day.
- She goes to the gym twice a week.
- My coworkers have lunch at work once a week.

TEST YOUR SKILLS!

e) I'm happy. (always)

f) My sister goes to the gym. (once a week)

Unit 4B

Talk to your teacher!

GRAMMAR BANK / Can / Can't

Como vimos anteriormente, can e can't são verbos modais utilizados para indicar habilidade e permissão. Além disso, eles também podem ser utilizados para indicar possibilidades e para fazer pedidos a outras pessoas. Observe os exemplos abaixo:

CAN / CAN'T

I know how to / I don't know how to:

- I can sing, but I can't dance.

It's possible / It's not possible:

- I can come on Tuesday, but I can't come on Friday.

It's permitted / It's not permitted.

- You can park here, but I can't park there.

Please, do it. / Is it ok if I do it?

- Can you help me? / Can I open the door?

TEST YOUR SKILLS!

1. Complete the sentences with can or can't and the verbs in brackets:

- I _____ to the party tonight. I'm very busy. (go)
- I'm sorry! I _____ your name. (remember)
- _____ you _____ the window, please? It's really hot in here. (open)
- John doesn't want to go to the club because he _____. (swim)
- _____ I _____ your mobile phone? I need to call my mom. (use)

Unit 5A

They are having a party!

GRAMMAR BANK / Present Continuous

Present Continuous é um tempo verbal utilizado para indicar que algo está acontecendo neste exato momento, e também para indicar que algo está acontecendo em algum período mais longo do presente (hoje, nesta semana, neste mês, etc.). Observe os exemplos abaixo:

PRESENT CONTINUOUS

Coisas que estão acontecendo agora (happening now / at the moment):

- There's a baby crying in the bedroom.

Alguns períodos mais longos do tempo presente (today, this week, this month etc.)

- I'm studying at home this week because it's snowing a lot on the streets.

A estrutura do Presente Contínuo é composta por pelo menos dois verbos, o verbo be (no presente) e o verbo principal na forma -ing, como se pode observar nos exemplo abaixo:

AM/IS/ARE

Main verb (-ING)

I am studying English now.

Patrick is swimming in the lake.

My grandparents are sleeping in the living room right now.

Observe a tabela abaixo, com um resumo das variações da estrutura do Present Continuous:

Affirmative (+) and Negative (-)
I am
You / we / they are	(not)	having a party.
He / she / It is

Interrogative (?)
Am I
Are you / we / they	having a party?
Is he / she / it

Short Answer (+)		Short answer (-)
Yes,	I am .	No,	I'm not .
	you / we / they are .		you / we / they aren't .
	he / she / it is .		he / she / it isn't .

As regras para a adicionar -ing nos verbos são bastante simples, como já vistas anteriormente:

GRAMMAR BANK / Past simple: regular verbs

Como já vimos anteriormente, utilizamos o passado simples para falar de ações finalizadas no passado. Os verbos regulares são verbos que seguem as regras usuais para a formação de passado, adicionando o sufixo -ed. Observe os exemplos abaixo:

INFINITIVE	PAST SIMPLE	SPELLING RULES
work finish	worked finished	+ ed
live change save	lived changed saved	verbs ending in letter 'e' + d
cry study	cried studied	verbs ending in consonant + 'y' - y + ied
stop travel	stopped travelled	verbs ending in CVC: double last consonant + ed

Observe as regras gerais para o uso do passado simples:

PAST SIMPLE

A forma conjugada dos verbos no passado são sempre utilizados nas frases afirmativas.

- I washed my face in the morning.

O verbo no passado tem a mesma forma para todas as pessoas. (I, you, he, she, it, we, you, they):

- She liked the film.
- They liked the film.

Utilizamos os auxiliaries did / didn't com o infinitivo do verbo principal para frases interrogativas e negativas.

- Did you watch TV last night? / I didn't watch TV last night.

Did também a forma passada do verbo do

- I did my homework yesterday.

Na tabela abaixo, podemos observar um breve resumo do passado simples para os verbos regulares.

Affirmative (+)	Negative (-)
I arrived home.	I didn't arrive home.
You finished the book.	You didn't finish the book.
He wanted a coffee.	He didn't want a coffee.
She liked the film.	She didn't like the film.
It rained yesterday.	It didn't rain yesterday.
We studied Portuguese at school.	We didn't study Portuguese at school.
You worked last Sunday.	You didn't work last Sunday.

GRAMMAR BANK / Past simple: irregular verbs

Como já vimos anteriormente, utilizamos o past simple para falar de ações finalizadas no passado. Os verbos irregulares são verbos que não seguem as regras usuais para a formação de passado, adicionando o sufixo -ed. Na verdade, a forma passada dos verbos irregulares pode ser bastante diferente da sua forma no infinitivo. Observe os exemplos abaixo:

Affirmative (+)		Negative (-)
I went home at 7 o'clock.		I didn't arrive home at 7 o'clock.
You heard him saying something.		You didn't hear him saying something.
He got a coffee for me.		He didn't get a coffee for me.
She bought me a shirt.		She didn't buy me a shirt.

Unit 8A

Were there any pictures on the wall?

GRAMMAR BANK / There is / was; there are / were

A expressão there + be é utilizada quando queremos indicar a existência de algo ou alguém. Usamos as variantes there is / there are para o presente simples e as variantes there was / there were para o passado simples.

THERE + BE

There is é comumente utilizado em sua forma contraída there's. No plural, utilizamos sempre a forma expandida there are.

Quando fazemos uma lista, utilizamos there is / was se a primeira palavra da lista estiver no singular

Utilizamos there are / were se a primeira palavra da lista estiver no plural.

Frequentemente, utilizamos THERE+BE com SOME and ANY.

SOME / ANY

Utilizamos some and any com plural nouns.

Some =. uma quantidade não exata (alguns, algumas, um pouco)

Utilizamos some em affirmatives (+):

- There were some postcards in the drawer.

Utilizamos any em negatives (-) e interrogatives (?):

- Are there any forks on the table?

- There aren't any forks on the table.

Observe abaixo um breve resumo de formas possíveis para a utilização de there + be, tanto no presente, quanto no passado simples.

Present simple: There is / There are

	Singular	Plural

GRAMMAR BANK / Adverbs of manner

Utilizamos adverbs of manner para indicar o modo ou maneira como as coisas são feitas. Observe os exemplos abaixo:

My mom drives dangerously .	I work hard .
Calvin Klein dresses fashionably .	We speak Portuguese well .

Para a utilização desses advérbios, algumas regras de formação de palavras devem ser observadas. Observe o quadro abaixo:

ADJECTIVE	ADVERB	SPELLING RULES
Bad Beautiful Careful Quick Dangerous Slow Polite Real Perfect Casual	Badly Beautifully Carefully Quickly Dangerously Slowly Politely Really Perfectly Casually	+ ly
Easy Healthy Unhealthy	Easily Healthily Unhealthily	adjectives terminados em Consoante + Y: -y + ily
Possible Incredible	Possibly Incredibly	adjectives terminados em 'le': -le + ily
Fast Good Hard	Fast Well Hard	irregular

Attention! Advérbios de modo geralmente se localizam depois do verbo.

I run very fast. (NOT ~~I very fast~~ run.)

Modifying adverbs Utilizamos modifying adverbs com adjetivos ou outros advérbios. Observe abaixo que tais advérbios modificadores se posicionam antes do adjetivo ou advérbio que estão modificando:

They walk very slowly.

People are quite formal.

She drives incredibly fast.

Unit 12A

The internet!

GRAMMAR BANK / Articles

Articles são palavras que precedem um substantivo (pessoa, lugar, objeto ou ideia). Existem dois tipos de artigos: definite articles e indefinite articles.

INDEFINITE ARTICLES - A/AN

Utilizamos a / an para substantivos no singular, quando o substantivo em questão não é específico, ou não é conhecido pelo interlocutor.

A: What's that?

B: It's a chair. (uma cadeira, nenhuma em particular)

Em expressions of frequency, utilizamos a preposição 'a':

- I go to the gym three times a week. (por semana)

DEFINITE ARTICLES - THE

Utilizamos the para substantivos no singular e no plural, quando queremos indicar que o substantivo em questão é algo específico, quando os interlocutores já sabem do que estão falando (geralmente por já ter sido mencionado anteriormente)

- Close the window, please. (a janela – aquela está aberta)

Utilizamos the quando algo é completamente único:

- the sun, the moon, the internet

Além disso, usamos o artigo definido antes de superlative adjectives

- the biggest, the latest, the most beautiful

When to use the articles (or not)

A / AN	THE	NO ARTICLE
SINGULAR COUNTABLE nouns não-específicos	SINGULAR/ PLURAL COUNTABLE nouns específicos UNCOUNTABLE nouns específicos	UNCOUNTABLE nouns não-específicos
Quando falamos de uma pessoa ou coisa de maneira geral, no singular - I saw a woman there.	Quando falamos de coisas específicas, no singular ou plural - The man wearing a white shirt is my brother.	Quando falamos de pessoas ou coisas de maneira geral, no plural - Men are more interested in football than women .
Na primeira vez que mencionamos algo, ou seja, quando o outro não sabe do que se trata. - I bought a car.	Após a coisa já ter sido mencionada antes, para nos referir a aquela coisa em questão. - The car is red.	Com pronomes possessivos; meals; by + transport - My car is red. - Dinner was great. - I travel by bus.

Unit 12B

I've read the book.

GRAMMAR BANK / Present perfect

Present perfect é um tempo verbal que indica uma relação entre o tempo passado e o presente. A utilização desta estrutura se torna extremamente simples se observarmos algumas regras gerais:

PRESENT PERFECT SIMPLE

Quando vamos descrever ações que ocorreram em um momento indefinido do passado

- I've seen this movie before. (observe que before denota passado mas não especifica quando)

Quando vamos falar de experiências que já tivemos na vida, frequentemente junto com os advérbios ever/already (em algum momento), e never (em nenhum momento da vida)

- Have you ever read a Russian novel? (já fez 'algo' alguma vez na vida?)
- They have already been to China. (já fez na vida sim, tem a experiência)
- Grandma has never swum in the ocean. (nunca fez na vida,)

Quando vamos falar de coisas que acabaram de acontecer, ou aconteceram num passado recente e impactam o nosso presente. Frequentemente usada com o advérbio just.

- Your friends have just arrived. They are waiting in the living room.
(Eles já chegaram / aconteceu recentemente)

A estrutura do Present Perfect é formada pelo verbo auxiliar 'have' no presente (have/has) e o particípio passado do verbo principal.

have / has

past participle

Affirmative (+)
I / You / we / they		have	seen	that film
He / she / it		has
Negative (-)
I / You / we / they		have not	seen	that film.
He / she / it		has not
Interrogative (?)
Have	I / You / we / they		seen	that film?
Has	He / she / it
Short answer (+)			Short answer (-)
Yes ,	I / You / we / they	have	No,	I / You / we / they	have not
	He / she / it	has		He / she / it	has not
